

Canada Career Month

IT'S POSSIBLE

This year, think about what's possible for you to achieve in your career at any stage of life.

Let's get you started.

It's possible to succeed

It's possible to create a plan that moves you forward

It's possible to reflect on your own story

It's possible to connect with a mentor

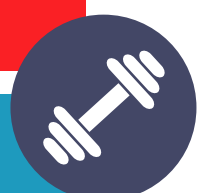

It's possible to make a difference to those you work with

It's possible to volunteer your way to meaningful work

It's possible to build your own job search campaign

It's possible to recover from job loss and come back stronger

It's possible to identify your transferrable skills

It's possible to gain different types of work experiences

It's possible to take charge of your career in a changing world

It's possible to achieve your dream through planning and dedication

It's possible to have work-life balance

It's possible to share your skills with others

careermonth.ca

Connect with your career